5 Year Anniversary
We had such an amazing summer at Scentsy that we almost didn’t want it to end! It was a season of exciting milestones and celebrations as we commemorated our fifth anniversary. Our summer was enriched when Scentsy was awarded the Direct Selling Association’s Rising Star Award for our incredible growth and commitment to ethical business practices.

Now, as our thoughts turn to fall and winter, we are excited to take the momentum of the summer to the next level! Each season we are anxious to announce new fragrances and new warmers. This season, as we enter our next five years as an industry-leading, family friendly company, we are shaking things up with entirely new product lines.

Mid-Size Scentsy Warmers are perfect for offices and compact spaces. DIY (Design it Yourself) Scentsy Warmers and Scentsy DIY Theme Packs of exclusive, rub-on transfers add “crafty” creativity to our innovative home-fragrance products. And speaking of innovation, Scentsy Travel Tins – portable Scentsy in popular scents – make it easy to take your favorite Scentsy fragrances anywhere.

As your world turns hectic with a new school year and a busy holiday season just around the corner, I hope you will find the time to curl up with a warm drink and enjoy our newest and most innovative products yet – with our continued thanks for being part of the Scentsy family.

Warmest regards,

Orville Thompson, President
The Scentsy Story

Scentsy began in 2003 with the powerfully simple idea of aromatic candles – decorative warmers with wax melted by the heat of a light bulb instead of a traditional wick and flame. Colette Gunnell and Kara Egan, Scentsy’s founders, shared enthusiasm for the idea. From this idea, they created a partnership and Scentsy was born.

Enter Orville Thompson, who first encountered Scentsy at a home show in Salt Lake City, Utah, in 2004. When Orville saw the candles made by this tiny Utah company, he immediately knew they had huge potential.

Sensing there was something special about the wickless candle concept, he brought a handful of testers home to his wife, Heidi, and her mother and sister. After introducing them to the testers, he left them alone. When he returned an hour later, the women were still smelling the testers, laughing and sharing memories.

Orville was intrigued by how smelling different scents brought powerful emotions and memories to the surface, and how natural it was to share those feelings and memories with others.

Within months, Orville and Heidi purchased Scentsy from Kara and Colette, bringing the company to Idaho where its first home was literally a metal box. Orville had a 40-foot ocean shipping container on his small sheep farm, which housed Scentsy’s manufacturing and shipping operations for several months.

Orville and Heidi decided to market and sell Scentsy products directly to consumers through home parties. On July 1, 2004, Scentsy signed its first consultant and officially became a direct selling “Party Plan” company.

Now celebrating its fifth anniversary, Scentsy is a recognized industry-leading company. In 2009 the Direct Selling Association awarded Scentsy its highest honor available to young companies, the Rising Star Award, for its growth and commitment to ethical business practices.

With more than 40,000 Independent Scentsy Consultants throughout North America, Puerto Rico and Guam, Scentsy is poised to lead the industry for the next five years and beyond.

What began in 2004 as a simple idea has truly grown into something extraordinary, as Scentsy continues to touch thousands of lives in profound ways.

Bamboo Tali

Soft, fluid lines; debossed bamboo designs; a reactive glaze finish in shades of warm taupe and pale, watery blue and green – all this combined with decorative metal accents creates a peaceful, spa-like warmer different from any other.
Lotus

Named for the flower featured on its inlaid medallion, Lotus is a study in contrasts. The mossy-green reactive glaze finish on the body of the warmer is complemented by the pale-green glass-like finish on the center medallion. Masculine in shape, and feminine in detail, no two warmers are exactly alike.
Plantation

Bring a touch of British Colonial style to any room with Plantation. A highly stylized interpretation of an artichoke, the fanciful flourishes complement traditional or eclectic décor.

The weathered cream glaze applied over a warm-brown base coat creates an original, unique look.
